

Satakunta University of Applied Sciences

Our name 'Satakunta Polytechnic' has been changed to Satakunta University of Applied Sciences on January 3, 2006. Satakunta University of Applied Sciences is an institution of professional higher education operating in the region of Satakunta in western Finland.

Satakunta University of Applied Sciences is an outstanding European institution of higher education. It produces human capital that is highly valued by business professionals and companies.

The university has about 6,500 students and over 500 members of staff. Satakunta University of Applied Sciences offers twenty bachelor's degree programmes in Finnish and two in English and has ten educational units, located in Harjavalta, Huittinen, Kankaanpää, Pori and Rauma. Those educational units, there are arranged in three faculties:

- o Faculty of Technology and Maritime Management

- o Faculty of Social Services and Health Care

- o Faculty of Business, Tourism and Culture

When you enter RIBA, you will become member of the faculty Business, Tourism and Culture.

Visit our website www.samk.fi ! Choose 'In English' in the green bar at the top.